Ajay Tanpure

Independent Work : This week we have made satisfactory progress in the project development. This time everybody worked independently and in pace. Tasks were created in such way that there was less dependency between the team members for other's task. This helped to make team member become independent and work with sole responsibility.

Working on Other stuff : Team also has the mid term exams in the coming week. Despite of this, every team member tried their level best to complete their tasks within the specified time limit. This shows the dedication towards the work that has been undertaken. This attitude will help us to manage the work life balance, and professional life aspects and personal life aspects.
